WATER BOTTLE PIGGY BANK

Instead of throwing that empty water, juice, or soda bottle in the trash or recycle bin, why not make it into a cute one-of-a-kind piggy bank your kids will love?

What You Need

- Empty plastic bottle
- Craft glue
- Scissors or utility knife
- Fabric or paper
- Four empty thread spools
- Yarn
- Paint
- Googly eyes

WATER BOTTLE PIGGY BANK

Instructions

1. Glue fabric or paper around the "body" of the bottle.
2. Cut piggy ears from the fabric or paper and glue them on as well, with the lid of the bottle acting as your piggy's snout.
3. Paint the empty thread spools any color you wish and then glue them to the body as your bank's four legs.
4. Cut a curly tail from the yarn and glue it to the bottle's bottom.
5. Glue the googly eyes onto your piggy bank's "face."
6. Using the knife or scissors, slice a slot in your piggy bank's back that is large enough for coins and folded dollars. You won't need a hole to remove the money; all you will need to do is twist off the bank's nose.
